

Happy Holidays!

*Holiday Greetings to our highly valued customers!
Once again All 'Round Pest Control, LLC wants to take this time to say
"Happy Holidays" and "Thank you" for your continued business.*

If you believe all the current media hype, this coming year will be a challenge for any business to foster continued growth. Is merely sustaining current business the best we can hope for? We say "NO". There is always more to a fulfilling life than seeking mere property and prestige. Don't misunderstand, of course we would like to pay the mortgage, however, the measure of our success doesn't stop at growth in company equipment and sales.

We are grateful that our company has been built on sound principals and a genuine effort to build lasting relationships with you, our valued customers. David is much more concerned with how you, your children, your parents, and even your dog are doing than he is about how much money you may have in the bank. We measure our success by real values - who we are as people, how we treat others, who we love and who loves us. Our relationships with humans and a spiritual relationship with the God of our understanding, these are the values that define us and the success of our company.

Let's be positive. We can consider the current financial crisis and the change in government officials of our nation the catalyst for positive change, if we choose to. So, let's choose to. Most Americans have cultivated the true spirit of wholesome values such as; a commitment to hard work, a belief system that favors honesty and integrity in personal and business practices, an openness policy of helping our neighbors and others achieve success, strong family values, attention to the needy, in addition to other countless admirable pledges and promises to do good things here and around the world. WE ARE A GREAT NATION and we have shared our many blessings.

So, as David, Bob, Jason or myself (Debbie) contact you to help out with your pest control needs, please keep in mind that we want to provide a positive, human, business experience with each of you. If you are feeling the pinch of financial strains, please let us know and we will see if there is a way we can continue to service you without putting additional financial burdens on you and your family. Truly our blessings are in being of service to each of you. We just happen to be pest control people, so don't let the bugs and rodents know how kind hearted we are!

Again, we are sending this holiday letter as a sincere "Thank you" for your support. Let us all continue on our quest for less bugs and a better quality of life! We wish each of you a blessed holiday season. Give yourself the gift of time with your loved ones, the cost will be outweighed by the rewards ten fold ☺.
